BravePoint Announces the Launch of Evolution:
Innovative Software Platform and Methodology for OpenEdge Development

- Build Rich Internet Applications (RIA) through mentoring, training and hands-on development
- Develop a Proof of Concept (POC) using in-house developers, data and OpenEdge business logic
 - After the engagement, developers are self-sufficient with cutting edge technology

Norcross, Georgia – BravePoint,® Inc. has announced the launch of its new product, Evolution, to provide a well-defined approach to companies that need to renovate existing OpenEdge applications or build new ones while taking advantage of rich Web 2.0 Ajax technology.

An Evolution engagement delivers the Evolution development platform and a training and mentoring methodology to jumpstart application development projects saving customers both time and money.

The Evolution platform consists of three main components:

User Interface – Any RIA development platform can be used; the tutorial includes a Web 2.0 Ajax toolkit

BravePoint Connector – A messaging engine that formats requests between the RIA Client and the WebSpeed Application Server

Business Transformation Layer (BTL) – Server side components including session state, security, business logic and data access

“We are extremely excited to offer this solution to our customers,” noted John Harlow, President of BravePoint. “Through the combination of the Evolution platform, along with expert training and hands-on mentoring, development teams will receive the individual attention and support required to build an application using the most up-to-date and exciting technology available. Using the Evolution approach, developers will also build a strong cohesive team that will have a positive impact on their organization for years to come,” Harlow added.
